THE FLOUR AND GRAIN MARKET.—

Yesterday's wagon price of Howard street Flour may be quoted at $7, a $7 12½. Limited sales from stores are reported to us at $7 50. A lot was offered at that price, but was not taken; while, on the other hand, other holders are unwilling to sell for $7 50. Sales of City Mills at $7 25. Some holders refuse to sell at less than $7 50.

Sales of Wheat were made yesterday at the following rates:—Good red at $1 50 a 1 52 per bushel; fair to good, at $1 40 a 1 45; and ordinary at $1 20 a 1 35.—Sales of new Corn at 50 cents, and of old at 55 cents per bushel.—Rye was offered yesterday at 60 cents, but no buyers were found at that rate.—Whiskey is held at 26 cents per hhd. and 28 cents for barrel.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22, 1828.

FLOUR AND MEAL.—Liverpool advices to the 11th ult. received early this week, gave an increased demand for Flour at $9, and sales to the extent of 1500 or 2000 brls. were made; but this was checked by London advices to the 18th ult. received on Wednesday evening, stating a re-action in prices of grain there, since when, a reduction has been submitted to: $8 is now the price asked.

GRAIN.—Supplies of Wheat are small; sales at $1 60 a $1 80 previous to receipt of late London advices, but prices now lower, and unsettled. A part of the Corn up last week remained over, with an additional supply this, the article met dull sales; the market opened at 54 a 56 cents for White and Yellow Southern, and has declined in the course of the week to 48 a 51 cts. leaving but little now on sale. Rye and Oats have declined; 26,000 bushels of Eastern Barley have been received and disposed of at 65 cts. 90 days.—Price Current.

From the N. York Daily Advertiser of Saturday.

NEW YORK MARKET.—FLOUR—On Monday and Tuesday some sales of New York Flour were made at $9 to $9 75, but in the afternoon of Tuesday, the packet ship New York arrived, bringing accounts of a material decline in the English markets, which produced a great depression here. 4 or 5000 brls. of New York and Southern brands, were purchased the next day at $8, some for shipment to Liverpool. On Thursday about 2000 brls New York were sold at $7 75, also supposed for England, and some Virginia Flour at $7 50 Yesterday about 2000 barrels of the latter description changed hands, also at $7 50, and 2 or 300 barrels Baltimore wharf, at $7 50 cash. The stock in this market is large in consequence of the transactions being so largely speculative; the small shipments made at the late high rates, and the heavy imports from the South. We quote

GRAIN.—A number of cargoes of Va. Wheat have arrived since our last, but we have heard of no sales since the great decline in Flour, to fix the value of Wheat, except a small parcel at $1 50. The Grain market has, however, materially declined, not only for Wheat, but also for coarser grains. Prices, however, are so unsettled, that our quotations this week, cannot be made with much accuracy. Wheat, Northern, bu. 1 37 a 1 50 | Rye, 62 a 65
Do. Western, 1 50 a 1 62 | Corn, yellow, North, 60
Do. Virginia, 1 50 a 1 56 | Do. Southern, 50

ENGLISH MEASURES.—An English quarter of Wheat is a quarter of a ton, 560 pounds—or 9½ American bushels of 60 pounds each.

An English sack of Flour weighs 28 pounds—7 of which are equal to 10 Am. barrels, 1960 pounds.

When the price of Wheat in England is 73 shillings a quarter, the duty is one shilling per quarter on foreign Wheat—at which it remains until the price becomes less.—The duty on Flour is regulated by that on Wheat.

The Electoral Colleges meet in their respective States on Wednesday, the 3d December, at their several seats of government. They vote by distinct ballots, and make distinct lists of persons for whom they vote. The lists are then signed, certified, sealed and sent to Washington. On the second Monday in February next, the votes are opened in the presence of the Senate and House, and counted. Whoever has a majority of all the electoral votes, is declared President, and the same as regards the Vice-President. The certified lists are sent to Washington by special messengers paid for that purpose.

LATEST NEWS FROM ENGLAND.

By the arrival of the packet ship New-York, Captain Bennet, we have received various files of London papers to the 17th ult., and Liverpool to the 18th.

The most important news is the report of a disastrous defeat which the Russians have sustained, under the command of Wittgenstein. These accounts, however, are not official. They came by the way of Frankfort. The last official accounts received in London were contained in the despatches from the British Ambassador, Lord Heytesbury, dated at Odessa, on the 26th September. These despatches contained accounts from Varna to the 21st, at which date the place had not surrendered, nor had any assault been made upon it. It was also known, by other accounts of the same date, that the Russian army was in a distressed condition, and that the Emperor was desirous of peace. There appears to be little doubt now that the Russian campaign, for the present year, is completely ended.

THE STUMP TAILED COW.

A Jersey Anecdote.—A good many years ago, a man stole a cow from Morristown, N. J. and drove her to Philadelphia for sale. She was a common cow enough, except that she had lost all her tail but about six inches. The thief, fearing that by the shortness of her tail he might be traced, had procured in some way, probably from a slaughter house, another cow's tail, which he fastened so ingeniously to the short tail, that it was not to be known that it had not regularly grown there.

As soon as the Jerseyman missed his cow, he set off for Philadelphia, thinking she would probably be carried there for sale; and it happened that when he came to the ferry he got into the same boat that was carrying over his cow and the fellow who stole her. As it was natural that he should have his thoughts very much upon cows, he soon began to look at this one with great attention. She was, indeed, very much like his cow, he thought. Her marks agreed wonderfully, and she had exactly the same expression of face, but then the expression of her tail was so very different. It must be supposed that the new owner of the cow felt rather uncomfortable during this examination, for he soon saw that this was the person whose property he had stolen, and he was very uneasy lest he should take hold of the tail which he looked at so continually. Upon the whole he thought it best to divert his attention in some way, if possible, and therefore steps up to him and says, "neighbour, that is a fine cow of mine, wont you buy her? you seem to know what a good cow is"—"Oh dear me," says the other, "I've just had a cow stolen from me." "Well," says the thief, "I'm sorry to hear they've got to stealing cattle, but I'll sell off, and you could not better replace your loss than by buying this cow; I'll warrant she's as good as yours." "Why," says the Jerseyman, "she was exactly like this one, only that she had no tail to speak of, and if this one had not such a long tail I'd swear it was my cow." Every body now began to look at the cow's tail, but the thief stood nearer to it than any body, and taking hold of it so as just to cover the splicing with his left hand, and a jack knife in his right, pointing to the tail, he said, "so if this cow's tail were only this long, you'd swear she was yours?" "That I would," says the other, who began to be very much confused at the perfect resemblance of this cow, except in this one particular, when the thief with a sudden cut of his knife, took off the tail, just about an inch above the splicing, and throwing it overboard, bloody as it was, turned to the other and said, "now swear it's your cow!"

The bewilderment of the poor man was now complete, but as he had seen the tail cut off, and saw the blood trickling from it, he could, of course, lay no claim to the animal from the shortness of her tail; indeed, here was proof positive that this was not his cow—so the thief going over with him, sold the cow without any further fear of detection.

MODE OF DRAWING—(Secured by Letters Patent under Seal of the United States :)

The wheel will contain 20,000 Numbers, (1 to 20,000 inclusive,) corresponding with the number of Tickets in the Lottery. On the drawing of the First Sub-scheme, the terminating figure of the first drawn number from the wheel will determine the 2000 prizes of $4 of that Scheme—then to decide the remainder of the prizes of that Scheme, there will be drawn from another wheel containing exclusively all the Numbers in the lottery ending with the terminating figure of such first drawn, 106 numbers; to the first of which, will be awarded the prize of 2000 dolls.—to the next, will be awarded the prize of 1000 dolls.—to the 3d drawn number will be awarded the 500 dollar prize; and so on till the 106 superior prizes of the first Sub-scheme are all distributed.

On the drawing of the Second Sub-scheme, the first drawn number of a termination different from that of the first drawn of the First scheme will determine the 2000 prizes of $4—then from a wheel containing exclusively all the numbers in the lottery, ending with such terminating figure, 106 numbers will be drawn;—to the first of which the prize of $2000 will be awarded—to the second, the $1000 prize will be awarded;—to the third, the $500 prize will be awarded, and so on till the 106 superior prizes of the second Sub-scheme are all distributed.

On the drawing of the Third Sub-scheme, the first number of a termination different from those of the 1st and 2d Schemes, will determine the 2000 prizes of $4—then from a wheel exclusively containing all the numbers in the lottery of such terminating figure, the 106 superior prizes of the third Sub-scheme will be awarded in the same manner as on the two preceding.

On the drawing of the Fourth Sub-scheme, the wheel will contain all the remaining undecided Numbers in the lottery, (14,000) being those composed of the terminations not drawn in either of the previous Sub-schemes—the other wheel will contain the prizes above the denomination of Five dollars, and the drawing to progress in the usual manner. The 4000 prizes of Five dollars will be awarded to the tickets, the numbers of which end with the terminating figure of either of the two first drawn numbers of different terminations.

In this Lottery, a Ticket drawing a superior prize will not be restricted from drawing an inferior one also.
